

Memorial Day Being Generally Observed In Nation Tomorrow

Day Devoted to Memory of Departed Heroes Takes New Significance Since We Are Again at War

CLEARFIELD WILL HONOR THE VETERANS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—With ceremonies that will be given an added touch of solemnity and impressiveness by the situation now confronting the nation Memorial day will be observed tomorrow on a more elaborate scale than ever before. From the Atlantic to the Pacific the nation's heroes will be honored by a loyal and loving people. From the time the sun rises over the hills of Maine until it sinks to rest beyond the mountains of California the vast extent of the land will echo with the bugle call, the rattle of drums and the firing of salutes. The youth of the nation will get their best lesson in patriotism when they lay a wreath of flowers on the stone that marks a soldier's grave.

Elaborate preparations have been completed for the observance in the national capital. Business will be suspended for the day, not only by the departments of the government, but also throughout the city. People of all classes will unite in perpetuating the memory of the heroic dead, who in countless thousands sleep peacefully in the national cemeteries of the District of Columbia.

As in previous years the official observance of the day will center in the exercises to be held in the Arlington National Cemetery, the beautiful burial ground across the Potomac, where sleep more than 20,000 of the country's dead, Federal soldiers and soldiers and Confederate officers and soldiers side by side.

President Wilson has been invited by the Grand Army of the Republic to deliver the oration of the day at Arlington. Other speakers of national prominence also will be heard. In the Maine section of the cemetery a special program of exercises will be carried out under the auspices of the army and navy union. Here the speakers will include Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the Cuban minister in Washington, and Representative W. Rank James of Michigan.

Another impressive feature of the Memorial Day observance in Washington is to be a "devotion to God and country" demonstration, which is intended to give public expression to the patriotic spirit of the Catholics of the United States. Leaders in public affairs are to be speakers, and nearly every Catholic society in the East will be represented.

Cardinal Gibbons is much interested in this demonstration, and it is expected that the three American cardinals and a large number of Catholic archbishops, bishops and clergy from all over the country will participate. Delegations representing the Knights of Columbus and other Catholic organizations are already on their way from many cities of the east, south and middle west. The gathering is expected to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in the United States.

The celebration will be opened tomorrow morning with a military mass in St. Aloysius church, which will be attended by leaders among the Catholics in the United States, both ecclesiastical and secular. The highest officials of the government also will attend. Cardinal Gibbons is to preside, and the Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shanahan, rector of the Catholic University of America, will celebrate the mass. The sermon in the church will be preached by Bishop Charles Warren Currier.

One particularly striking feature of the military mass will be the attendance of the Gonzaga college cadets in full uniform, the St. John's college cadets, the Catholic University and Georgetown students, who are in the military companies, and those who are enrolled at the reserve officers' training camp.

The military mass will be followed in the afternoon by outdoor exercises at the Union station plaza. The hour will be fixed to suit the convenience of President Wilson who has accepted the invitation to attend the exercises. The oration of the day will be delivered by former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York. Patriotic songs will be rendered by a chorus of 1,000 voices recruited from the Catholic societies and schools of Washington and vicinity.

Will Ask Judge Bell To Revoke Licenses

Dry Forces Allege Violation of Law Disqualifies Licensees

Judge Bell will be asked by the Clearfield County Dry Federation to revoke every wholesale and brewery license in Clearfield county on Monday next, according to papers filed in the Prothonotary's office this morning by Messrs. Swoope and Arnold, attorneys for the petitioners.

When the 1917 licenses were granted a rule was attached returnable the first Monday of June which required the licensee to show cause, if questioned, at that time why the said license should not be revoked.

The Superior Court on March 7th handed down its decision declaring that the licenses issued in Clearfield county in 1916 were null and void and when the Dry Federation brought suit against the E. D. Schwem Co. of DuBois, alleging violation of the liquor law for operating in 1916 under the aforesaid "null and void" license, the jury by direction of Judge Whitehead, specially presiding, brought in a verdict of guilty and the action of the Dry Federation at this time is in accordance with these two decisions.

Following the jury's verdict a motion was made by the defendants' attorney asking for an arrest of judgment pending a possible further review of the whole matter by the state Supreme court and the fact that this motion has not been disposed of yet may preclude action on this latest move at this time.

The paper filed in the case of each wholesale or brewery license holder is as follows:

Bill of Particulars

To the Hon. Singleton Bell, President Judge of said Court:

On behalf of Joseph S. Reitz and other remonstrators to the granting of a wholesale liquor license to the above named petitioner, we file the following bill of particulars to the rule granted by this court on the petition, returnable to the first Monday of June, 1917, to show cause why said license should not be revoked.

First. Said petitioner during the license year from March 6, 1916 to March 5, 1917, committed numerous violations of the liquor laws of the State of Pennsylvania, by selling spurious, vinous, malt and brewed liquors without a license.

Second. Said petitioner having violated the license laws of this Commonwealth as aforesaid, is not eligible to be licensed under the laws of this Commonwealth.

BELGIAN CHILDREN REMEMBER INVASION'S HORRORS

(By United Press)
London, May 29.—Children of Belgium will never forget those awful days of 1914 when the gray waves swept over the land scourging the country.

In London the family of a well-to-do Belgian refugee was driven from home by fire. Upstairs in her little bed the four-year-old daughter was sleeping when the firemen rushed in. English firemen wear shiny brass helmets, which appear similar to the German soldier's head-piece in the dark.

The child caught one glimpse of the firemen and screamed. "Les Allemandes! Les Allemandes! They will kill me!"

But one fireman who had kids of his own picked up his helmet and seized the screaming little girl to carry her through the flames to safety. Safe in her mother's arms she still sobbed "Les Allemandes! They kill!"

Connie Mack Begins To Purchase Players

Cannot Build Strong Team From Raw Material as he Done Before

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 29.—Connie Mack, famed developer of young talent, is beginning to doubt that they grow in the colleges now as they used to. His efforts to rebuild a powerful baseball machine on the lines that the famous team of former days held bare met with but little success. He has been forced to beat the bushes to get some life into his ball club.

Memory recalls that Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, Stuffy McInnis, Eddie Plunk, Chief Bender, Jack Coombs, and many other famous ball players who have developed under the tutelage of Mack were collegians just a short time before they became Athletics.

Mack tried to do it all over. He combed college talent looking for promising players and he picked up many youngsters who were given trials. Only a few of them have been able to stand the major league pace.

Among the college players still drawing salaries from the Athletics is Lawton Witt. He is a real star and is becoming better daily as he learns the Mack system. Catcher Meyer is another, but aside from these the college players have done little.

Mack went out last year and bought Ping Bodie, Thrasher, Noyes Bates, and some others. Recently he brought Cy Tallenhurg back to the big circuits. He is trying now to rebuild as the other managers do. His efforts so far have brought encouraging results, but he still is a long way from the desired point.

Mack will have to keep on combing the brush. He will not find the amateur players of promise that used to cavort for the colleges and semi-professional nines. Baseball in the colleges has deteriorated, or the class has gone back. The ball players nowadays apparently are growing on the sand lots; the colleges are contributing very little.

Howard Burns, of Winburne, was a Clearfield visitor last evening.

Albert Nelson's Death Attributed To Liquor

Carbon Mines Fatality Result of Too Much Whiskey

According to the investigating of the county authorities the death of Albert Nelson at Carbon Mines yesterday morning, mention of which was made in last night's Progress, was simply another victory for old John Burleycorn, the contributing factor being Phillipsburg whiskey.

Nelson, who was a hardworking man when not "in his cups" went to Phillipsburg and came home Saturday night with a couple of suit cases loaded with booze. He immediately began the task of drinking up his supply and kept at it all day Sunday and Sunday night. Monday morning a short time before his dead body was found, he was seen to enter Mike Turic's shanty where death occurred. Dr. Pollum said death was caused by hemorrhage due to acute alcoholism.

Nelson's remains were turned over to Undertaker Smith of Curwensville and prepared for burial.

Congress Has Ruined Orient Tourist Crop

America's Entrance Into the War Results in a Dangerous Pacific

(By United Press)
Tokio, May 15.—(By Mail)—The Orient's tourist business, which promised to smash all records this year, has been practically ruined by America's belligerent attitude and the submarine scare on the Pacific. Never in history had indications pointed to such a bumper crop of American spenders as this spring.

The ricksha boys and curio men had girded their loins and extended their palms. All was ready for the American tourist's spring drive on the Far East. And then President Wilson called the Kaiser's hand and America doffed her coat and stepped into the big world scrap.

The big Tokyo Kisen liner, Tenyo Maru, due at Yokohama April 30, carried less than 100 passengers from San Francisco. She has accommodations for 250 and practically every cabin had been sold. And then came war and the submarine rumors.

It's a sad day for the hotel keeper, and the steamship agent, and the Chinese tailor and the ricksha boy and all the rest—but especially it is sad for the smiling, bowing, industrious subject of the Mikado who will show you everything from an ancient print to a cloisonne vase—and make you buy it.

CLEARFIELD IS ALWAYS FIRST

Willard Moore, and Kenneth Hay, of DuBois, according to a cablegram received from Willard by his father, H. A. Moore, Esq., are in London on the way to the battle line in France.

The DuBois papers, as usual, claim that these patriotic young Americans are the first from this section to reach the front line trenches. This, however, is not the case as Guy Lawhead, from good old Clearfield was in the first American unit to land on European shores, he having sailed from New York on May 8th and is already in service having landed in London on the 16th, just two weeks previous to the DuBois boys.

They are all entitled to full credit for their loyalty and patriotism and there will be glory enough for all, but we merely call attention to this oversight as a matter of town pride and for the purpose of giving honor where honor is due. In war as in the triumphs of peace when a DuBois man arrives at seldom won heights of glory he always finds a Clearfielder already awaiting him there.

Two sons of W. C. Pentz, Esq., of DuBois, are also members of College hospital units and are either on the way to the battlefields of France or expect to leave at any minute for the front.

Lansing Gives Reason For Trade Regulation Act's Early Passage

Exposes Plot Of German's To Organize Steamship Company With American Officers To Make Trouble

PLOT HATCHED BEFORE ENEMY INTO WAR

Washington, May 29.—Secretary Lansing, Secretary of Commerce Redfield and Assistant Attorney General Warren, authors of most of the war legislation, were before the Interstate Commerce Committee today in behalf of the Adamson "trading with the enemy act" introduced last week. Lansing was asked by the committee to explain the reason for support of such an act.

"There was an attempt by Germans or German officials, I do not know which to effect a breach between this country and England or France. A steamship company was to be organized with an American board of directors, before the American declaration of war against Germany."

Lansing declared that "before this country entered into war Germany sent an official to communicate with one of her spies on American soil and authorized him to organize a steamship company. The American directors were to buy grain and place it aboard the ship in order that there might be some issue between this country and one of the Allies over the question of seizure of the American cargo."

There are many cases, Lansing continued, of attempts by Germans to effect some misunderstanding between this country and one of the Allies over the seizure of cargo.

Before the war declaration German propaganda had resulted in much correspondence between the United States and the Allies regarding the seizure of American cargo much of which was shipped to some neutral port and was later reshipped into Germany."

Exhibit Will Long Continue To Point Its Silent But Powerful Moral

Sowing The Wind Of The Rum Traffic Means Reaping The Whirlwind of Distress

One of the best and most sincere arguments against the rum business we have heard of in a long time is that which adorns the walls of the DuBois Y. M. C. A. It is the written or printed record of the financial downfall of a man following his embarkation in the booze business and eloquently portrays the truth of the old saw that money made from the sale of booze never or seldom ever sticks.

The story has to do with a sturdy son of the Emerald Isle who came to this country like many another Irishman in the hopes of making his fortune and becoming a free man in a free man's country.

He located at Osceola and being a hustler and worker at all times, soon by hard work and clean living he became possessed of considerable property, and as a further penalty for being Irish got a banking for politics, and soon was rated as somewhat of a power in his district.

Of more than ordinary intelligence and possessed of a generous heart, abundance of good humor and a "gift of gab" which assisted him in holding his own in any company, the young man continued to grow in political power and popularity until his strength came to be recognized by the leaders of his party in the county. Finally one of his warm friends was elevated to the judgeship in the county and on account of his loyal party service the "powers that be" recommended the subject of our story for reward. The only thing to be given, and by many considered the best thing in sight was a wholesale whiskey and beer license in some populous community, and our friend was offered the prize and the town of DuBois selected as the place to locate.

Disposing of his holdings the move to DuBois was made, the license issued and for the subsequent ten years the man continued his business. He retained the qualities of head and heart that made him friends on every hand when he first landed to free America and no charity worthy or unworthy appealed to him in vain. He had a sort of personal pension list among the poor and unfortunate of his neighborhood and acquaintance that accounted for many of the dollars taken in over his counters.

He was temperate himself, but a hail fellow well met otherwise, and a barker at the State bar south of here, aside from his generous disposition, he was a man of all hearts. He seized the day growing dark and was quick to see a light before the dawn of returning to Paul in large measure what Peter was robbing himself of in order to satisfy his appetite for strong drink.

It happened in the course of the turning of the political cycle that another succeeded his friend to the position from which license favors emanated and as other hands were doling out the favors other friends were to be rewarded and now after having crossed the meridian and begun the descent down life's hill toward the valley of the shadows his lines fell in troubled places and trying times and as a result of floating fortune and inability to meet his obligations a sheriff's execution closed the final chapter and the remaining fruits of his ten years labors were taken away by the law's decree.

He was straght of heart, although weakened in body by advancing age, health, and spread sunshine by his presence, in adversity as in prosperity, making no outcry at the cruel trick the Fates had served him. But his condition and experience furnished food for reflection and thought and it did not take him long to figure the proposition out to a satisfactory conclusion. He thereupon gathered together the different license certificates issued to him by the courts of Clearfield county during the years he had been in the business, together with the internal revenue certificates used during the same time and adding thereto the copy of the sheriff's sale bill posted on the door of his business house, encased the entire exhibit in a frame and carrying the same to the Y. M. C. A. asked of the secretary in charge permission to hang it on the walls of the Y. in order that it might teach its silent lesson regarding the evils of booze and the rum traffic to all young men who chanced to look upon it, and there it hangs, and is daily pointed out to visitors as the late Con Cutler's contribution to the myriad arguments against rum and the rum traffic.

SOLDIERS NEED HELP

The girls of the City of DuBois are so awfully patriotic and so enamored of the khaki clad warriors of the K. 18th regiment, now located in the suburbs of the "windy city" that when they were permitted to appeal to the local police authorities to keep the boys away from the company hall fellow well met otherwise, and a barker at the State bar south of here, aside from his generous disposition, he was a man of all hearts. He seized the day growing dark and was quick to see a light before the dawn of returning to Paul in large measure what Peter was robbing himself of in order to satisfy his appetite for strong drink.

French Thought To Be Renewing Offensive

Bring Down Seven Enemy Aeroplanes And Damage Twelve Others

(By United Press)
Paris, May 29.—Resumption of violent artillery fighting around the greater part of the Champagne front was an indication possibly of a renewal of the French offensive operations in that sector, today's war office statement declared. The German's counter attack around Hurlerise were repulsed and two heavy offensives were launched but the French retook hold of their positions. Positions around the small post north of Vache Au Ville were carried. Yesterday seven enemy aeroplanes were brought down and destroyed and twelve others badly damaged were forced to alight.

French Thought To Be Very Little Activity Along British Lines

Artillery Action is Only Mutual In Its Fighting

(By United Press)
London, May 29.—Activity on the British front today was only mutual artillerying according to Field Marshal Haig's report. Southwest of Lens and west of Messines the British Commander in Chief reported driving off of all hostile raiders.

In Ploegsteert, Haig said, the British forces carried out successful raids. In the neighborhood of Bullecourt today and on both banks of the Scarpe enemy artillery was active in the night.

IMPORTANT FREIGHT HEARING OPENS

New York, May 29.—A hearing of the utmost importance to shippers opened here today when Examiner La Rue of the Interstate Commerce commission heard evidence bearing on the proposed reduction in free time at railroad terminals upon carload freight designed for lighterage delivery.

Under the present rule such freight is held in warehouses at terminals for five days gratis. The proposed rule would cut this period to two days. Members of the Merchants' association, interested in the reduction, testified.

GET READY POSTMASTERS

It may not be a proper function of The Progress to assist in the convening of the postmasters of the county in the interest of the State Democratic organization, yet before the afore-said P. M.s load up too strong on Liberty Bonds it is incumbent upon us that we warn them that they will be called upon to make a free will (so called at least) donation to the cause of the Democratic party to the extent of five percent of their salary. It cannot be learned today whether the Clearfield county postmasters have received their summons to appear before the authorized tax collector but the scheme is hatched and working in some parts of the state.

WAR: A PANACEA OF NATIONS

With the American nation there is always something doing and for the last decade the great American public have passed through one feverish episode after another. At intervals in the excitement and typical American fervor there come crises, epochs, in which the people are forced to stop and take stock of themselves, weighing thoughtfully the causes which have brought them to the place they are, the forces operative in their lives and the ultimate end to which they will lead. We are at such a place now and we have begun to look things in the face and realize the difference between a nation of patriotic fancy and a nation of sober fact.

For purposes of war we are just as great a nation as we believe ourselves to be for confidence in our ability to defeat the enemy is a great factor. Nevertheless we cannot fail to see that we are less efficient and less prepared for the struggle than we thought we were. It is unpleasantly evident that we are more ready for lip service than action and the foolish assertions of Democratic leaders in the early days of the war that America would spring to arms at a moment's notice have proven to be only fanciful ideas.

America has reached the point where over-civilization resulted in a decay of the sturdier virtues. We laughed at the ideals cherished by our fathers and we found no lesson in their sacrifices for mankind. Art was becoming grotesque; it catered to the lust of the mind rather than the delight of the soul. Literature likewise was written to sell to the moral degenerate rather than to the person seeking spiritual and mental development. We even embraced the doctrine that "we were too proud to fight" and haughtily looked on while our misguided European brethren engaged in mortal combat. War, to such a nation, can result in one of only two things. The one is a weak submission to a military adventurer of a hardier and less effeminate race and the other will be a return with tremendous sacrifice to our pristine virtues.

Germany believed that France and England, effeminate and decadent, were nothing but shells that would be easily crushed but their defects were exterior only. They were sound at the core. Their resistance to the foe has proven that point. They even surprised themselves at their resources in money and men. Their national safety was at stake and a great crisis brought out the best there was in them and England and France will emerge from the conflict purged of superfluities and the slime of decadence which covered their better selves as rust covers untreated iron.

Our weakness is apparent but unreal. We are iron, but covered with the rust of ease and luxury and we shall come out of this struggle as tempered steel, forged in the fires of war. The United States will find its soul in the great testing.

Memorial Day

Bearing aloft the banner of freedom has been no easy task.

Maintaining the integrity of our Nation has required great sacrifice.

Men gave their lives for our heritage.

We do them honor.

Their spirit lives.

America remembers.

MASTER REMEDY
TANLAC IS HERE

Famous Medicine Created Sensation in Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh

Tanlac, the famous Master Medicine that is creating such a sensation in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Reading, Harrisburg and other cities of the state is now being introduced here.

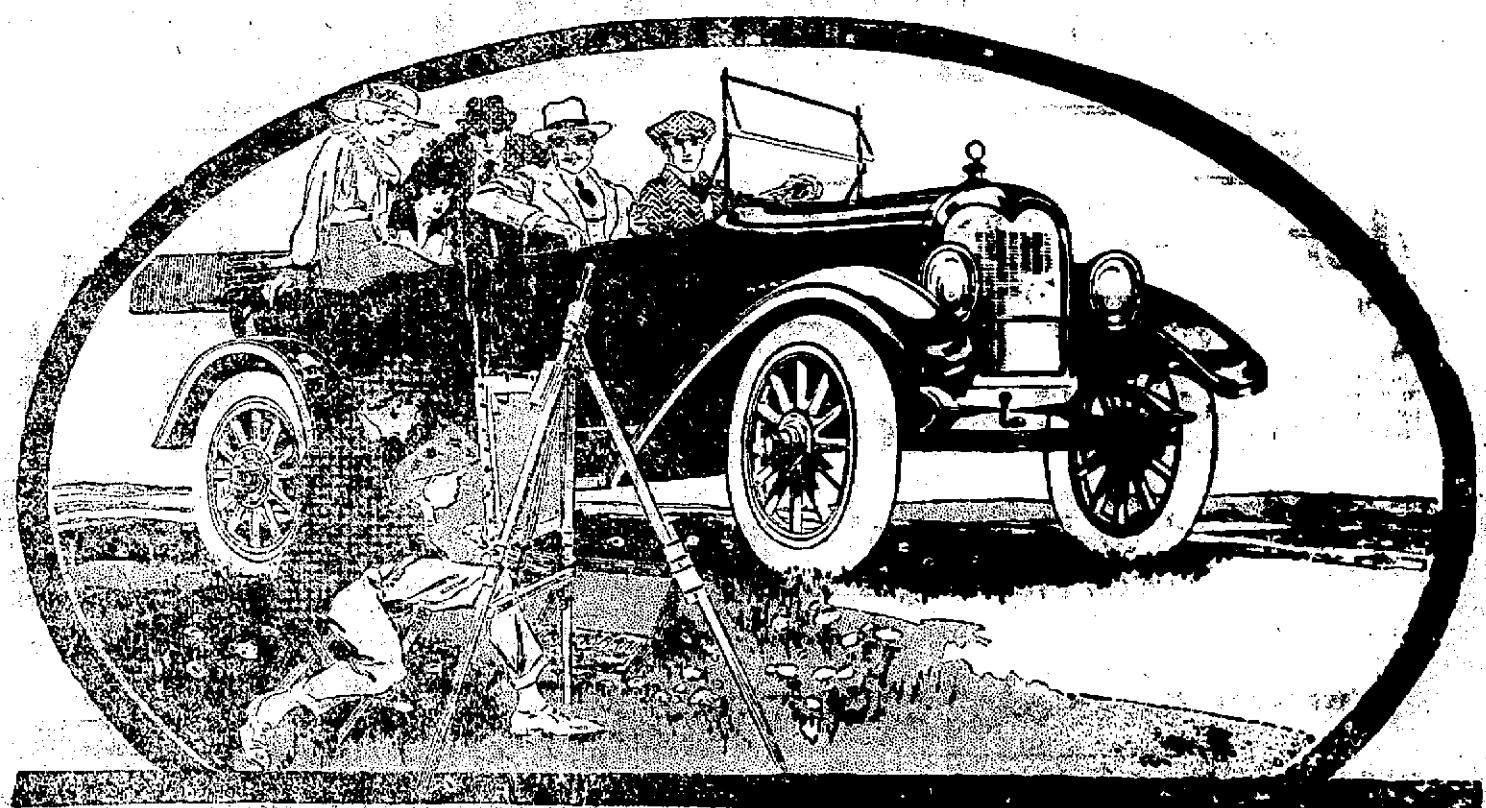

Tanlac is made of ingredients of a vegetable origin by a noted German chemist even as mysteriously as famous mineral waters are formed. The preparation seems to have no equal as a tonic and general system purifier. It strikes straight at the seat of stomach, liver, kidney and catarrhal affections, and puts those who have been suffering from years of misuse of their vital organs in the very pink of condition.

Tanlac seems to appeal to the best element of people everywhere it is introduced. Thousands have testified to its marvellous powers over the more common complaints of today. It seems to be delicately adapted to the needs of the stomach, gently persuades the proper assimilation of foods, and gives strength and health to the weak and infirm.

Tanlac is now being sold and distributed here exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, druggists, where the Master Medicine can always be had.

All the children declared they had a good time and wished James many more such birthdays.

The Maxwell Is Mechanically Right
We Waited Four Years To Say That

The makers of the Maxwell spent four years in developing the car. Patient, persistent, scientific refinement of one model—that was the method. An automobile that beats the world for endurance, efficiency, economy—that's the result.

You know the old story about the race between the hare and the tortoise:

—how the hare slipped about the fields—nibbled clover tops—cut all kinds of capers, trying to "show off";
—how the tortoise stuck to his job—stayed in the middle of the road—kept on going—and won the race;
—you know that story and its moral.

No Experiment in Maxwell Mechanism

Some automobile makers have run around after novelties—like the hare, trying to add untried "improvements" which operate better in advertising than on the car.

But the Maxwell makers held fast to one model, —and when some one made a big how-do about his latest novelty, the Maxwell makers strengthened a pin, —or simplified or improved a part of the Maxwell mechanism.

—or in other big and little ways developed, refined, perfected the one Maxwell model.

So that, in the end, the Maxwell won by the tortoise method.

The Maxwell World Endurance Champion

A Maxwell stock car—a duplicate in every detail of your Maxwell—without stopping the motor, traveled 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights, —and at a rate of 25 miles an hour and 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

No other vehicle built by human beings ever did anything to compare with that feat.

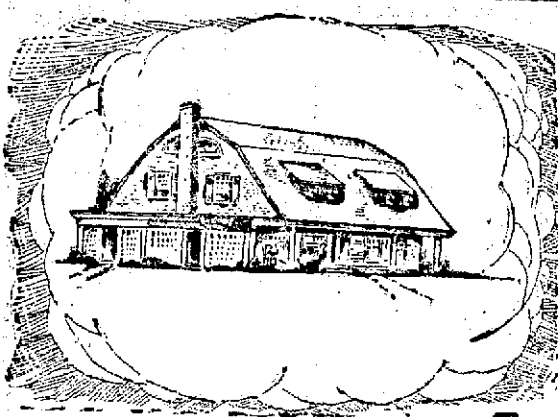

The Economy Champion Too

P. D. Armour used to say that his packing houses "utilized all the hog but the squeal." That's the kind of economy you get in a Maxwell.

Washington, May 29.—A regiment of American foresters will accompany the first contingent of United States engineers to France, it was announced today at the department of agriculture. This unit is to be composed of practical woodsmen, loggers, portable sawmill operators and others experienced in lumbering operations. It will work under the supervision of French foresters furnishing timber for bridges, railroads and trench construction without permanently damaging the forests from which it came. This unit is to be composed of 100 men. The foresters will be assembled at six central points.

Learn to be Thrifty

We Americans are the most extravagant people in the world, due in large part to the natural richness of this country.

Under present conditions it is essential for us to be thrifty. It is hard at first. It means cutting out unnecessary expenses. It means learning to say "no" to the appeal of extravagance. But like all habits, Thrift soon becomes second nature.

Thrift is not miserliness. It provides for all proper expenses. It lays aside money for education, for travel, for the finer things of life. It teaches us how to spend as well as save.

Let us advise you on learning the Thrift Habit.

NEW MILLPORT

Mr. Greer Bell is carrying his arm in a sling as a result of severing the leadere and artery in his left arm while tanning apple trees.

Perry Baughman, one of our industrious farmers, says, "If everybody about New Millport would do a little each day there would be plenty of food stuff for the coming year."

Orcl Bell seldom takes time to come to town during these busy days. He regrets that he cannot meet the requirements to enlist, but says that if he cannot go, he can help to supply the necessary ammunition to keep the boys active.

Our town veterans of the Civil war, H. J. Sloppy, Enos Bloom, John C. Bloom, Isaac Wolfe and William Shoenen are making preparations to commemorate their fallen comrades next Wednesday, Memorial Day. Services will be held at the Lutheran church at 2:30, after which fitting remembrances will be paid at the graves in both cemeteries. The remains of the following veterans lie in these two cemeteries:

Lutheran cemetery: Milton Sloppy, Daniel Sloppy, Aaron Cathcart, John Ilich, John Geddes, Lewis Ethand, M. R. Lewis, William Templeton, William Coder. In the Williams cemetery, James Glenn, Harry DeHaas, George Curry.

Leonard Owens, of State College visited his aunt, Mrs. Perry Norris over Sunday. Leonard will enter Garrett Biblical Institute this fall and afterwards the Methodist Ministry.

John Bloom, Jr., has moved into his newly purchased residence, opposite Milton Bloom.

Woodward McCracken, son of Alfred McCracken, who has been in West Virginia during the past twenty years, is opening up a shoe store in New Millport. Everybody wishes "Woodie" success.

Ivan Olson may be able to boot away more games than all the umpires combined, yet when the Robins win the erratic Swede is generally found in the lineup.

Halt! Who Comes There The GOLDINE Man

LIFE IS HELL TO THE MAN OR WOMAN WHOSE STOMACH HAS GONE BACK ON THEM. A bad stomach kills hope, ambition, energy, courage, and causes suffering that racks and ruins the strongest body. A Personal Message

We have to furnish our stomachs with food to replenish blood cells, build up bone and tissue, and keep all the organs acting naturally, just as the boiler of a big engine must be stoked with coal to keep up steam. The engine will not run without steam; your body will not be well and strong without food.

The quality and quantity and the proper assimilation of food in the stomach exercises its influence upon your entire body. Billions of little life cells live or die according to the food you put into your stomach. The time that you are preparing to give your body the greatest amount of physical strength and your brain power to think and act is at the time you eat.

You not only eat food—you must digest it and assimilate its nutritive elements. If digestion and assimilation are impaired for any reason, you need help. That is what Goldine is for, to help you. Every ounce of food not enough to be serious, but they grow and in time produce a distress that cannot be told in words.

Read what Mrs. Leslie Weller says: "For ten years I have suffered with stomach trouble, gas, nervous trouble, catarrh, headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, weakness and gait troubles that would double me up with pain. In fact, I was almost an invalid as a result of my miserable condition. I got sick and nervous headaches so bad that every few days I would have to go to bed and call a doctor. After reading about 'Goldine,' and how much help others received, I got two bottles of 'Goldine,' for the nerves, stomach and heart and one bottle of 'Alterac' for the kidneys, blood, rheumatism and bladder. I started. In a few days I noticed remarkable improvement. I had no more spells with my head and my health has built up more during the last few weeks than I have been using these wonderful medicines than in months before. In fact they have accomplished results for men which an operation failed to do. I can and do recommend them fully as I thought nothing would ever help me." When it takes only a few weeks to get results from such terrible conditions as Mrs. Weller suffered there is no good reason why you should not spend five minutes to investigate the greatest achievement in the history of proprietary medicines.

We have arranged to have one of the Goldine men at Stewart's Drug Store in Clearfield. He will be glad to explain to you in full what this great medicine has done. Don't delay or you may forget—this matter is most vital to you. See him today.

Remember I am at Stewart's Drug Store. A talk with me about Goldine costs you nothing and may save you years of suffering.

THE GOLDINE MAN

taken into your stomach that is not properly digested becomes an overload that has to be thrown out, or, simply stated, burned up by your own energy. In other words, you are using your own strength and power to throw out of your system the overload. You are trying to run with the brakes on. This produces mental and physical friction, makes you feel bad at the start, and in time you will become very ill.

Remember—stomach ill, do not all ways start with serious pains and troubles—just a little indigestion box.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE HIDDEN SCAR"

Special at the Globe Tomorrow

No one ever passes through life scarless, and usually when the twilight of life dawns upon us, we look upon our scars as medals, won in the battle of life.

Sometimes as we journey on, conditions for which we are not always responsible, mark us, so to speak, with scars that we would hide from our friends. Some call it Fate, others call it Destiny, while the big, broad-shouldered man or the level-headed little woman, call it Imagination. Again, there are a few who look these scars with a feeling of horror. These few may be in the minority, but the power of their opinions often makes a mountain of a mole-hill. There is a scorching path in life, and there are many who travel it in search of happiness. As a result there comes a time when they seek to hide the scar. All things considered, "The Hidden Scar" is one of the most interesting pictures produced in a long time. It has that touch of nature that makes the whole world sin!

Sharp competition for major league batting honors is giving the firm of Speaker and Chase considerable trouble in its efforts to continue business at the same old stand.

TO EMPLOYERS OF LABOR IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY

With the unprecedented influx of laborers in the industrial centers of Pennsylvania comes, the menace of smallpox.

Only recently a negro, within eight days after entering your county, sickened with the disease while lodging in a bunk car at Mahaffey. Negroes have sickened in labor camps in various sections of the state and some railway employees have been infected in widely scattering sections of the state.

I am appealing to you, therefore,

to protect your industry and your help as well as the lives of those in all paths of life throughout the Commonwealth by having all vaccinated who have not been successfully vaccinated within a period of five years and to take new labor only on evidence of successful vaccination, shown to your examiners. It is only in this way that we may prevent wide-spread dissemination of infection and completely protect you and your industry.

Yours very truly,

Memorial Day Being Generally Observed In Nation Tomorrow

Day Devoted to Memory of Departed Heroes Takes New Significance Since We Are Again at War

CLEARFIELD WILL HONOR THE VETERANS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—With ceremonies that will be given an added touch of solemnity and impressiveness by the situation now confronting the nation Memorial day will be observed tomorrow on a more elaborate scale than ever before. From the Atlantic to the Pacific the nation's heroes will be honored by a loyal and loving people. From the time the sun rises over the hills of Maine until it sinks to rest beyond the mountains of California the vast extent of the land will echo with the bugle call, the rattle of drums and the firing of salutes. The youth of the nation will get their best lesson in patriotism when they lay a wreath of flowers on the stone that marks a soldier's grave.

Elaborate preparations have been completed for the observance in the national capital. Business will be suspended for the day, not only by the departments of the government, but also throughout the city. People of all classes will unite in perpetuating the memory of the heroic dead, who in countless thousands sleep peacefully in the national cemeteries of the District of Columbia.

As in previous years the official observance of the day will center in the exercises to be held in the Arlington National Cemetery, the beautiful burial ground across the Potomac, where sleep more than 20,000 of the country's dead, Federal soldiers and soldiers and Confederate officers and soldiers side by side.

President Wilson has been invited by the Grand Army of the Republic to deliver the oration of the day at Arlington. Other speakers of national prominence also will be heard. In the Maine section of the cemetery a special program of exercises will be carried out under the auspices of the army and navy union. Here the speakers will include Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the Cuban minister in Washington, and Representative W. Rank James of Michigan.

Another impressive feature of the Memorial Day observance in Washington is to be a "devotion to God and country" demonstration, which is intended to give public expression to the patriotic spirit of the Catholics of the United States. Leaders in public affairs are to be speakers, and nearly every Catholic society in the East will be represented.

Cardinal Gibbons is much interested in this demonstration, and it is expected that the three American cardinals and a large number of Catholic archbishops, bishops and clergy from all over the country will participate. Delegations representing the Knights of Columbus and other Catholic organizations are already on their way from many cities of the east, south and middle west. The gathering is expected to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in the United States.

The celebration will be opened tomorrow morning with a military mass in St. Aloysius church, which will be attended by leaders among the Catholics in the United States, both ecclesiastical and secular. The highest officials of the government also will attend. Cardinal Gibbons is to preside, and the Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shanahan, rector of the Catholic University of America, will celebrate the mass. The sermon in the church will be preached by Bishop Charles Warren Currier.

One particularly striking feature of the military mass will be the attendance of the Gonzaga college cadets in full uniform, the St. John's college cadets, the Catholic University and Georgetown students, who are in the military companies, and those who are enrolled at the reserve officers' training camp.

The military mass will be followed in the afternoon by outdoor exercises at the Union station plaza. The hour will be fixed to suit the convenience of President Wilson who has accepted the invitation to attend the exercises. The oration of the day will be delivered by former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York. Patriotic songs will be rendered by a chorus of 1,000 voices recruited from the Catholic societies and schools of Washington and vicinity.

Will Ask Judge Bell To Revoke Licenses

Dry Forces Allege Violation of Law Disqualifies Licensees

Judge Bell will be asked by the Clearfield County Dry Federation to revoke every wholesale and brewery license in Clearfield county on Monday next, according to papers filed in the Prothonotary's office this morning by Messrs. Swoope and Arnold, attorneys for the petitioners.

When the 1917 licenses were granted a rule was attached returnable the first Monday of June which required the licensee to show cause, if questioned, at that time why the said license should not be revoked.

The Superior Court on March 7th handed down its decision declaring that the licenses issued in Clearfield county in 1916 were null and void and when the Dry Federation brought suit against the E. D. Schwem Co. of DuBois, alleging violation of the liquor law for operating in 1916 under the aforesaid "null and void" license, the jury by direction of Judge Whitehead, specially presiding, brought in a verdict of guilty and the action of the Dry Federation at this time is in accordance with these two decisions.

Following the jury's verdict a motion was made by the defendants' attorney asking for an arrest of judgment pending a possible further review of the whole matter by the state Supreme court and the fact that this motion has not been disposed of yet may preclude action on this latest move at this time.

The paper filed in the case of each wholesale or brewery license holder is as follows:

Bill of Particulars
To the Hon. Singleton Bell, President Judge of said Court:

On behalf of Joseph S. Reitz and other remonstrators to the granting of a wholesale liquor license to the above named petitioner, we file the following bill of particulars to the rule granted by this court on the petition, returnable to the first Monday of June, 1917, to show cause why said license should not be revoked.

First: Said petitioner during the license year from March 6, 1916 to March 5, 1917, committed numerous violations of the liquor laws of the State of Pennsylvania, by selling spurious, vinous, malt and brewed liquors without a license.

Second: Said petitioner having violated the license laws of this Commonwealth as aforesaid, is not eligible to be licensed under the laws of this Commonwealth.

BELGIAN CHILDREN REMEMBER INVASION'S HORRORS

(By United Press)
London, May 29.—Children of Belgium will never forget those awful days of 1914 when the gray waves swept over the land scourging the country.

In London the family of a well-to-do Belgian refugee was driven from home by fire. Upstairs in her little bed the four-year-old daughter was sleeping when the firemen rushed in. English firemen wear shiny brass helmets, which appear similar to the German soldier's head-piece in the dark.

The child caught one glimpse of the firemen and screamed, "Les Allemandes! Les Allemandes! They will kill me!"

But one fireman who had kids of his own picked up his helmet and seized the screaming little girl to carry her through the flames to safety. Safe in her mother's arms she still sobbed "Les Allemandes! They kill!"

A. M. FLECK'S FUNERAL

Connie Mack Begins To Purchase Players

Cannot Build Strong Team From Raw Material as he Done Before

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 29.—Connie Mack, famed developer of young talent, is beginning to doubt that they grow in the colleges now as they used to. His efforts to rebuild a powerful baseball machine on the lines that the famous team of former days held bare met with but little success. He has been forced to beat the bushes to get some life into his ball club.

Memory recalls that Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, Stuffy McInnis, Eddie Plunk, Chief Bender, Jack Coombs, and many other famous ball players who have developed under the tutelage of Mack were collegians just a short time before they became Athletics.

Mack tried to do it all over. He combed college talent looking for promising players and he picked up many youngsters who were given trials. Only a few of them have been able to stand the major league pace.

Among the college players still drawing salaries from the Athletics is Lawton Witt. He is a real star and is becoming better daily as he learns the Mack system. Catcher Meyer is another, but aside from these the college players have done little.

Mack went out last year and bought Ping Bodie, Thrasher, Noyes Bates, and some others. Recently he brought Cy Tallenhurg back to the big circuits. He is trying now to rebuild as the other managers do. His efforts so far have brought encouraging results, but he still is a long way from the desired point.

Mack will have to keep on combing the brush. He will not find the amateur players of promise that used to cavort for the colleges and semi-professional nines. Baseball in the colleges has deteriorated, or the class has gone back. The ball players nowadays apparently are growing on the sand lots; the colleges are contributing very little.

Howard Burns, of Winburne, was a Clearfield visitor last evening.

Albert Nelson's Death Attributed To Liquor

Carbon Mines Fatality Result of Too Much Whiskey

According to the investigating of the county authorities the death of Albert Nelson at Carbon Mines yesterday morning, mention of which was made in last night's Progress, was simply another victory for old John Burleycorn, the contributing factor being Phillipsburg whiskey.

Nelson, who was a hardworking man when not "in his cups" went to Phillipsburg and came home Saturday night with a couple of suit cases loaded with booze. He immediately began the task of drinking up his supply and kept at it all day Sunday and Sunday night. Monday morning a short time before his dead body was found, he was seen to enter Mike Turic's shanty where death occurred.

Dr. Pollum said death was caused by hemorrhage due to acute alcoholism.

Nelson's remains were turned over to Undertaker Smith of Curwensville and prepared for burial.

Congress Has Ruined Orient Tourist Crop

America's Entrance Into the War Results in a Dangerous Pacific

(By United Press)
Tokio, May 15.—(By Mail)—The Orient's tourist business, which promised to smash all records this year, has been practically ruined by America's belligerent attitude and the submarine scare on the Pacific. Never in history had indications pointed to such a bumper crop of American spenders as this spring.

The ricksha boys and curio men had girded their loins and extended their palms. All was ready for the American tourist's spring drive on the Far East. And then President Wilson called the Kaiser's hand and America doffed her coat and stepped into the big world scrap.

The big Tokyo Kisen liner, Tenyo Maru, due at Yokohama April 30, carried less than 100 passengers from San Francisco. She has accommodations for 250 and practically every cabin had been sold. And then came war and the submarine rumors.

It's a sad day for the hotel keeper, and the steamship agent, and the Chinese tailor and the ricksha boy and all the rest—but especially it is sad for the smiling, bowing, industrious subject of the Mikado who will show you everything from an ancient print to a cloisonne vase—and make you buy it.

CLEARFIELD IS ALWAYS FIRST

Willard Moore, and Kenneth Hay, of DuBois, according to a cablegram received from Willard by his father, H. A. Moore, Esq., are in London on the way to the battle line in France.

The DuBois papers, as usual, claim that these patriotic young Americans are the first from this section to reach the front line trenches. This, however, is not the case as Guy Lawhead, from good old Clearfield was in the first American unit to land on European shores, he having sailed from New York on May 8th and is already in service having landed in London on the 16th, just two weeks previous to the DuBois boys.

They are all entitled to full credit for their loyalty and patriotism and there will be glory enough for all, but we merely call attention to this oversight as a matter of town pride and for the purpose of giving honor where honor is due. In war as in the triumphs of peace when a DuBois man arrives at seldom won heights of glory he always finds a Clearfielder already awaiting him there.

Two sons of W. C. Pentz, Esq., of DuBois, are also members of College hospital units and are either on the way to the battlefields of France or expect to leave at any minute for the front.

DR. PIPER NOTIFIED BY READY FOR CALL

Dr. W. Scott Piper received notice this morning to equip himself with uniform and other paraphernalia preparatory to receiving a call to active duty. Dr. Piper also received notice of his commission as First Lieutenant, Mounted.

Lansing Gives Reason For Trade Regulation Act's Early Passage

Exposes Plot Of German's To Organize Steamship Company With American Officers To Make Trouble

PLOT HATCHED BEFORE ENEMY INTO WAR

Washington, May 29.—Secretary Lansing, Secretary of Commerce Redfield and Assistant Attorney General Warren, authors of most of the war legislation, were before the Interstate Commerce Committee today in behalf of the Adams "trading with the enemy act" introduced last week. Lansing was asked by the committee to explain the reason for support of such an act.

"There was an attempt by Germans or German officials, I do not know which to effect a breach between this country and England or France. A steamship company was to be organized with an American board of directors, before the American declaration of war against Germany."

Lansing declared that "before this country entered into war Germany sent an official to communicate with one of her spies on American soil and authorized him to organize a steamship company. The American directors were to buy grain and place it aboard the ship in order that there might be some issue between this country and one of the Allies over the question of seizure of the American cargo."

There are many cases, Lansing continued, of attempts by Germans to effect some misunderstanding between this country and one of the Allies over the seizure of cargo.

Before the war declaration German propaganda had resulted in much correspondence between the United States and the Allies regarding the seizure of American cargo much of which was shipped to some neutral port and was later reshipped into Germany."

Exhibit Will Long Continue To Point Its Silent But Powerful Moral

Sowing The Wind of The Rum Traffic Means Reaping The Whirlwind of Distress

One of the best and most sincere arguments against the rum business we have heard of in a long time is that which adorns the walls of the DuBois Y. M. C. A. It is the written or printed record of the financial downfall of a man following his embarkation in the booze business and eloquently portrays the truth of the old saw that money made from the sale of booze never or seldom ever sticks.

The story has to do with a sturdy son of the Emerald Isle who came to this country like many another Irishman in the hopes of making his fortune and becoming a free man in a free man's country.

He located at Osceola and being a hustler and worker at all times, soon by hard work and clean living he became possessed of considerable property, and as a further penalty for being Irish got a banking for politics, and soon was rated as somewhat of a power in his district.

Of more than ordinary intelligence and possessed of a generous heart, abundance of good humor and a "gift of gab" which assisted him in holding his own in any company, the young man continued to grow in political power and popularity until his strength came to be recognized by the leaders of his party in the county. Finally one of his warm friends was elevated to the judgeship in the county and on account of his loyal party service the "powers that be" recommended the subject of our story for reward. The only thing to be given, and by many considered the best thing in sight was a wholesale whiskey and beer license in some populous community, and our friend was offered the prize and the town of DuBois selected as the place to locate.

Disposing of his holdings the move to DuBois was made, the license issued and for the subsequent ten years the man continued his business. He retained the qualities of head and heart that made him friends on every hand when he first landed to free America and no charity worthy or unworthy appealed to him in vain. He had a sort of personal pension list among the poor and unfortunate of his neighborhood and acquaintance that accounted for many of the dollars taken in over his counters.

He was temperate himself, but a hail fellow well met otherwise, and a hatter at the State bar withouth and aside from his generous disposition he was growing more and more devoted to the rum traffic and was quite ready to turn a blind eye to the fact that Peter was robbing himself of money to satisfy his appetite for strong drink.

It happened in the course of the turning of the political cycle that another succeeded his friend to the position from which license favors emanated and as other hands were doling out the favors other friends were to be rewarded and now after having crossed the meridian and begun the descent down life's hill toward the valley of the shadows his lines fell in troubled places and trying times and as a result of floating fortune and inability to meet his obligations a sheriff's execution closed the final chapter and the remaining fruits of his ten years labors were taken away by the law's decree.

He was straght of heart, although weakened in body by advancing age, health, and spread sunshine by his presence, in adversity as in prosperity, making no outcry at the cruel trick the Fates had served him. But his condition and experience furnished food for reflection and thought and it did not take him long to figure the proposition out to a satisfactory conclusion. He thereupon gathered together the different license certificates issued to him by the courts of Clearfield county during the years he had been in the business, together with the internal revenue certificates used during the same time and adding thereto the copy of the sheriff's sale bill posted on the door of his business house, encased the entire exhibit in a frame and carrying the same to the Y. M. C. A. asked of the secretary in charge permission to hang it on the walls of the Y. in order that it might teach its silent lesson regarding the evils of booze and the rum traffic to all young men who chanced to look upon it, and there it hangs, and is daily pointed out to visitors as the late Con Cooter's contribution to the myriad arguments against rum and the rum traffic.

SOLDIERS NEED HELP

The girls of the City of DuBois are so awfully patriotic and so enamored of the khaki clad warriors of the K. 18th regiment, now located in the suburbs of the "windy city" that they have organized a "windy city" fund. When was one person to appeal to the local police and to keep the girls away from the company headquarters at the State bar withouth and aside from his generous disposition he was growing more and more devoted to the rum traffic and was quite ready to turn a blind eye to the fact that Peter was robbing himself of money to satisfy his appetite for strong drink.

French Thought To Be Renewing Offensive

Bring Down Seven Enemy Aeroplanes And Damage Twelve Others

(By United Press)
Paris, May 29.—Resumption of violent artillery fighting around the greater part of the Champagne front was an indication possibly of a renewal of the French offensive operations in that sector, today's war office statement declared. The German's counter attack around Marbise were repulsed and two heavy offensives were launched but the French retook hold of their positions. Positions around the small post north of Vache Au Ville were carried. Yesterday seven enemy aeroplanes were brought down and destroyed and twelve others badly damaged were forced to alight.

French Thought To Be Very Little Activity Along British Lines

Artillery Action is Only Mutual In Its Fighting

(By United Press)
London, May 29.—Activity on the British front today was only mutual artillerying according to Field Marshal Haig's report. Southwest of Lens and west of Messines the British Commander in Chief reported driving off of all hostile raiders.

In Ploegsteert, Haig said, the British forces carried out successful raids. In the neighborhood of Bullecourt today and on both banks of the Scarpe enemy artillery was active in the night.

IMPORTANT FREIGHT HEARING OPENS

New York, May 29.—A hearing of the utmost importance to shippers opened here today when Examiner La Rue of the Interstate Commerce commission heard evidence bearing on the proposed reduction in free time at railroad terminals upon carload freight designed for lighterage delivery.

Under the present rule such freight is held in warehouses at terminals for five days gratis. The proposed rule would cut this period to two days. Members of the Merchants' association, interested in the reduction, testified.

GET READY POSTMASTERS

It may not be a proper function of The Progress to assist in the convening of the postmasters of the county in the interest of the State Democratic organization, yet before the aforesaid P. M.s load up too strong on Liberty Bonds it is incumbent upon us that we warn them that they will be called upon to make a free will (so called at least) donation to the cause of the Democratic party to the extent of five percent of their salary. It cannot be learned today whether the Clearfield county postmasters have received their summons to appear before the authorized tax collector but the scheme is hatched and working in some parts of the state.

WAR: A PANACEA OF NATIONS

With the American nation there is always something doing and for the last decade the great American public have passed through one feverish episode after another. At intervals in the excitement and typical American fervor there come crises, epochs, in which the people are forced to stop and take stock of themselves, weighing thoughtfully the causes which have brought them to the place they are, the forces operative in their lives and the ultimate end to which they will lead. We are at such a place now and we have begun to look things in the face and realize the difference between a nation of patriotic fancy and a nation of sober fact.

For purposes of war we are just as great a nation as we believe ourselves to be for confidence in our ability to defeat the enemy is a great factor. Nevertheless we cannot fail to see that we are less efficient and less prepared for the struggle than we thought we were. It is unpleasantly evident that we are more ready for lip service than action and the foolish assertions of Democratic leaders in the early days of the war that America would spring to arms at a moment's notice have proven to be only fanciful ideas.

America has reached the point where over-civilization resulted in a decay of the sturdier virtues. We laughed at the ideals cherished by our fathers and we found no lesson in their sacrifices for mankind. Art was becoming grotesque; it catered to the lust of the mind rather than the delight of the soul. Literature likewise was written to sell to the moral degenerate rather than to the person seeking spiritual and mental development. We even embraced the doctrine that "we were too proud to fight" and haughtily looked on while our misguided European brethren engaged in mortal combat. War, to such a nation, can result in one of only two things. The one is a weak submission to a military adventurer of a hardier and less effeminate race and the other will be a return with tremendous sacrifice to our pristine virtues.

Germany believed that France and England, effeminate and decadent, were nothing but shells that would be easily crushed but their defects were exterior only. They were sound at the core. Their resistance to the foe has proven that point. They even surprised themselves at their resources in money and men. Their national safety was at stake and a great crisis brought out the best there was in them and England and France will emerge from the conflict purged of superfluities and the slime of decadence which covered their better selves as rust covers untreated iron.

Our weakness is apparent but unreal. We are iron, but covered with the rust of ease and luxury and we shall come out of this struggle as tempered steel, forged in the fires of war. The United States will find its soul in the great testing.

Memorial Day

Bearing aloft the banner of freedom has been no easy task.

Maintaining the integrity of our Nation has required great sacrifice.

Men gave their lives for our heritage.

We do them honor.

Their spirit lives.

America remembers.

MASTER REMEDY
TANLAC IS HERE

Famous Medicine Created Sensation in Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh

Tanlac, the famous Master Medicine that is creating such a sensation in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Reading, Harrisburg and other cities of the state is now being introduced here.

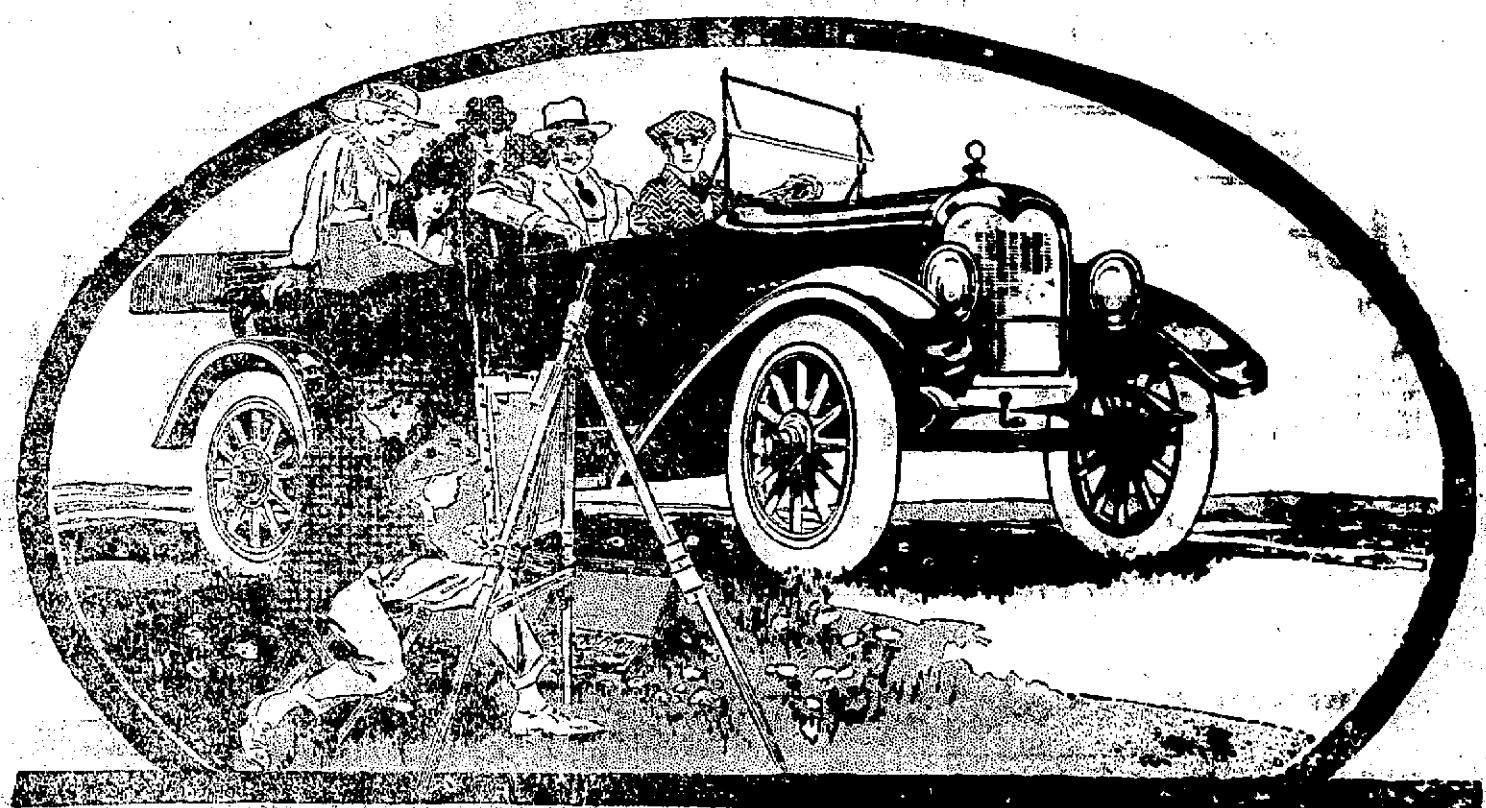

Tanlac is made of ingredients of a vegetable origin by a noted German chemist even as mysteriously as famous mineral waters are formed. The preparation seems to have no equal as a tonic and general system purifier. It strikes straight at the seat of stomach, liver, kidney and catarrhal affections, and puts those who have been suffering from years of misuse of their vital organs in the very pink of condition.

Tanlac seems to appeal to the best element of people everywhere it is introduced. Thousands have testified to its miraculous powers over the more common complaints of today. It seems to be delicately adapted to the needs of the stomach, gently persuades the proper assimilation of foods, and gives strength and health to the weak and infirm.

Tanlac is now being sold and distributed here exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, druggists, where the Master Medicine can always be had.

ENTERTAINED HIS CLASS

James was the recipient of many useful presents. Before the kiddies departed for home delicious refreshments were served. All the children declared they had a good time and wished James many more such birthdays.

The Maxwell Is Mechanically Right
We Waited Four Years To Say That

The makers of the Maxwell spent four years in developing the car. Patient, persistent, scientific refinement of one model—that was the method. An automobile that beats the world for endurance, efficiency, economy—that's the result.

You know the old story about the race between the hare and the tortoise:

—how the hare slipped about the fields—nibbled clover tops—cut all kinds of capers, trying to "show off";
—how the tortoise stuck to his job—stayed in the middle of the road—kept on going—and won the race;
—you know that story and its moral.

No Experiment in Maxwell Mechanism

Some automobile makers have run around after novelties—like the hare, trying to add untried "improvements" which operate better in advertising than on the car.

But the Maxwell makers held fast to one model, —and when some one made a big how-do about his latest novelty, the Maxwell makers strengthened a pin, —or simplified or improved a part of the Maxwell mechanism.

—or in other big and little ways developed, refined, perfected the one Maxwell model.

So that, in the end, the Maxwell won by the tortoise method.

The Maxwell World Endurance Champion

A Maxwell stock car—a duplicate in every detail of your Maxwell—without stopping the motor, traveled 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights, —and at a rate of 25 miles an hour and 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

No other vehicle built by human beings ever did anything to compare with that feat.

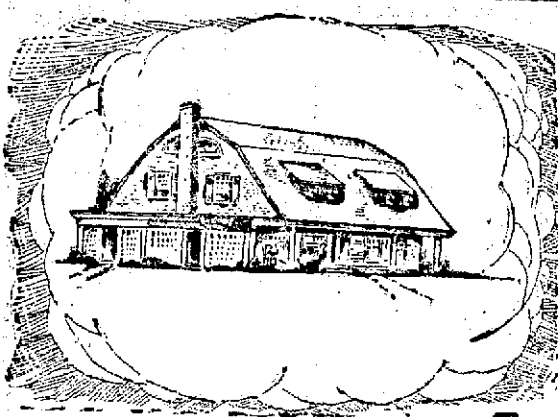

The Economy Champion Too

P. D. Armour used to say that his packing houses "utilized all the hog but the squeal."
That's the kind of economy you get in a Maxwell.

Roadster, $650; Touring Car, $665; Cabriolet, $845; Town Car, $915; Sedan, $925; completely equipped, including electric starter and lights. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

Learn to be Thrifty

We Americans are the most extravagant people in the world, due in large part to the natural richness of this country.

Under present conditions it is essential for us to be thrifty. It is hard at first. It means cutting out unnecessary expenses. It means learning to say "no" to the appeal of extravagance. But like all habits, Thrift soon becomes second nature.

Thrift is not miserliness. It provides for all proper expenses. It lays aside money for education, for travel, for the finer things of life. It teaches us how to spend as well as save.

Let us advise you on learning the Thrift Habit.

NEW MILLPORT

Mr. Greer Bell is carrying his arm in a sling as a result of severing the leadere and artery in his left arm while tanning apple trees.

Perry Baughman, one of our industrious farmers, says, "If everybody about New Millport would do a little each day there would be plenty of food stuff for the coming year."

Orcl Bell seldom takes time to come to town during these busy days. He regrets that he cannot meet the requirements to enlist, but says that if he cannot go, he can help to supply the necessary ammunition to keep the boys active.

Our town veterans of the Civil war, H. J. Sloppy, Enos Bloom, John C. Bloom, Isaac Wolfe and William Shoenen are making preparations to commemorate their fallen comrades next Wednesday, Memorial Day. Services will be held at the Lutheran church at 2:30, after which fitting remembrances will be paid at the graves in both cemeteries. The remains of the following veterans lie in these two cemeteries:

Lutheran cemetery: Milton Sloppy, Daniel Sloppy, Aaron Cathcart, John Ilich, John Geddes, Lewis Ethand, M. R. Lewis, William Templeton, William Coder. In the Williams cemetery, James Glenn, Harry DeHaas, George Curry.

Leonard Owens, of State College visited his aunt, Mrs. Perry Norris over Sunday. Leonard will enter Garrett Biblical Institute this fall and afterwards the Methodist Ministry.

John Bloom, Jr., has moved into his newly purchased residence, opposite Milton Bloom.

Woodward McCracken, son of Alfred McCracken, who has been in West Virginia during the past twenty years, is opening up a shoe store in New Millport. Everybody wishes "Woodie" success.

Ivan Olson may be able to boot away more games than all the umpires combined, yet when the Robins win the erratic Swede is generally found in the lineup.

Halt! Who Comes There The GOLDINE Man

LIFE IS HELL TO THE MAN OR WOMAN WHOSE STOMACH HAS GONE BACK ON THEM. A bad stomach kills hope, ambition, energy, courage, and causes suffering that racks and ruins the strongest body.

A Personal Message

We have to furnish our stomachs with food to replenish blood cells, build up bone and tissue, and keep all the organs acting naturally, just as the boiler of a big engine must be stoked with coal to keep up steam. The engine will not run without steam; your body will not be well and strong without food.

The quality and quantity and the proper assimilation of food in the stomach exercises its influence upon your entire body. Billions of little life cells live or die according to the food you put into your stomach. The time that you are preparing to give your body the greatest amount of physical strength and your brain power to think and act is at the time you eat.

You not only eat food—you must digest it and assimilate its nutritive elements. If digestion and assimilation are impaired for any reason, you need help. That is what Goldine is for, to help you. Every ounce of food not enough to be serious, but they grow and in time produce a distress that cannot be told in words.

Read what Mrs. Leslie Weller says:

"For ten years I have suffered with stomach trouble, gas, nervous trouble, catarrh, headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, weakness and gait troubles that would double me up with pain. In fact, I was almost an invalid as a result of my miserable condition. I got sick and nervous headaches so bad that every few days I would have to go to bed and call a doctor. After reading about 'Goldine,' and how much help others received, I got two bottles of 'Goldine,' for the nervous stomach and heart and one bottle of 'Alterac' for the kidneys, blood, rheumatism and bladder. I started. In a few days I noticed remarkable improvement. I had no more spells with my head and my health has built up more during the last few weeks than I have been using these wonderful medicines than in months before. In fact they have accomplished results for men which an operation failed to do. I can and do recommend them fully as I thought nothing would ever help me." When it takes only a few weeks to get results from such terrible conditions as Mrs. Weller suffered there is no good reason why you should not spend five minutes to investigate the greatest achievement in the history of proprietary medicines.

We have arranged to have one of the Goldine men at Stewart's Drug Store in Clearfield. He will be glad to explain to you in full what this great medicine has done. Don't delay or you may forget—this matter is most vital to you. See him today. Remember I am at Stewart's Drug Store. A talk with me about Goldine costs you nothing and may save you years of suffering.

The Goldine Remedies are made from roots, herbs, barks and berries and are as pure as nature and scientific chemistry can make them. GOLDINE is used in the treatment of stomach, heart, nerves, indigestion, physical decline and debility, to build you up and create strength. Liquid. Price $1 per bottle. Three for $2.50. GOLDINE ALTERAC is used for catarrh, kidneys, bladder, liver, blood, rheumatism, weak back, eruptive and skin diseases and to purify the entire system. Liquid. Price $1 per bottle. Three for $2.50.

GOLDINE LAXATIVES are used for constipation, costiveness, liver trouble, gall troubles, clogs the liver and for cleansing of digestion and excretion.

THE GOLDINE MAN

taken into your stomach that is not properly digested becomes an overload that has to be thrown out, or, simply stated, burned up by your own energy. In other words, you are using your own strength and power to throw out of your system the overload. You are trying to run with the brakes on. This produces mental and physical friction, makes you feel bad at the start, and in time you will become very ill.

Remember—stomach ill, do not all ways start with serious pains and troubles—just a little aid on box.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE HIDDEN SCAR"

Special at the Globe Tomorrow

No one ever passes through life scarless, and usually when the twilight of life dawns upon us, we look upon our scars as medals, won in the battle of life.

Sometimes as we journey on, conditions for which we are not always responsible, mark us, so to speak, with scars that we would hide from our friends. Some call it Fate, others call it Destiny, while the big, broad-shouldered man or the level-headed little woman, call it Imagination. Again, there are a few who look these scars with a feeling of horror. These few may be in the minority, but the power of their opinions often makes a mountain of a mole-hill. There is a scorching path in life, and there are many who travel it in search of happiness. As a result there comes a time when they seek to hide the scar. All things considered, "The Hidden Scar" is one of the most interesting pictures produced in a long time. It has that touch of nature that makes the whole world sin!

Sharp competition for major league batting honors is giving the firm of Speaker and Chase considerable trouble in its efforts to continue business at the same old stand.

TO EMPLOYERS OF LABOR IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY

With the unprecedented influx of laborers in the industrial centers of Pennsylvania comes, the menace of smallpox.

Only recently a negro, within eight days after entering your county, sickened with the disease while lodging in a bunk car at Mahaffey. Negroes have sickened in labor camps in various sections of the state and some railway employees have been infected in widely scattering sections of the state.

I am appealing to you, therefore,

to protect your industry and your help as well as the lives of those in all paths of life throughout the Commonwealth by having all vaccinated who have not been successfully vaccinated within a period of five years and to take new labor only on evidence of successful vaccination, shown to your examiners. It is only in this way that we may prevent wide-spread dissemination of infection and completely protect you and your industry.

Yours very truly,
SAMUEL G. DIXON

Prepare to Emulate Their High Example.

When grandmother was a girl, she celebrated Decoration Day in frills, flounces, furbelows and a hoop skirt. MATERIALS

AT $1.00 to $7.50

Telling you in our advertisements that you can buy your wash skirts here to best advantage will not be half so convincing as to have you come into the store see the skirts, try them on, note how well they are made and the moderate cost prevailing. There are skirts of white and colored repp, gaberdine, corduroy and piques with pockets of various designs some with belts and large pearl buttons.

READY--NEW MIDDY BLOUSES
AT $1, $1.50 and $1.95

Made of white colored line and white pique. Many of them are in the regulation midly effect; others have collars, cuffs and belt of Japanese crepe. A number have smocked trimmings. The girls have fallen in love with the styles.

OUR 95c WAIST VALUES ARE THE TALK OF THE TOWN

We have created almost a sensation with the waists we are selling at 95c and there is not any wonder, for they look more like $2 and $3 waists than 95c waists. The styles are smart; the waists look exceedingly good. Made of voile, fancy weave materials and organdies. Some of them are lace trimmed with large sailor collars. Trimmed with embroidery pearl buttons and sport designs.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE PRETTY
HATS FOR SUMMER?

Displayed in the Millinery section are a group of white hats. They are typically summery in appearance. Some are so light, you hardly know you had one on your head. Among the favorites are wide brim, sailor effects, also drooping brims. Made of Georgette crepe, maline and milans. A number are trimmed with daisies, ribbons and white flowers. They will add a new note to your white summer dresses.

"Kie-Yie-Yie! Get Me 'Gets-It' Quick"

2 Drops Make Corn "Fall" Off!

"I've joined the Never-Again Club. Never again will I use anything for corns but 'Gets-It'. Put 2 drops of 'Gets-It' on, and from that second the corn begins to shrivel, instead of swelling up like a little white sponge. Then it loosens from your toe—and, glory hallelujah! the corn comes off as though you'd take a glove off your hand!"

Yes, "Gets-It" is the corn discovery of the age. More "Gets-It" is sold by many times than any other corn remedy in existence. Try it and you'll know the reason why. It takes two seconds to apply it, and it dries at once. That's all. Don't experiment—follow the experience of millions—use "Gets-It."

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Clearfield and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by C. W. Dooley, Irwin Drug Co., and Woodward & McPherson.
